

GOLD MASTERY CERTIFICATION

Stage 3 Practicum Application of strategic & systems thinking principles

Outcome

For the individual to achieve a level of practical ability/competence which is indicative of a high performance in mastery of the subject matter and is considered sufficient to be certified with a gold mastery certificate.

Each candidate will be required to submit an assessment detailing the situation analysis and desired outcome and outline the Systems Thinking tools, lessons learned and future recommendations.

Purpose

The candidate must demonstrate significant progress and high potential for mastery of the principles and processes learned through participation in the foundation and master class workshops, and practice on an approved training such that the Global Partners are confident the individual is able to apply the principles in a group training situation.

Background

This flexible practicum is the capstone phase of the 'blended learning' Gold Mastery Certification process. It integrates all of the previous learning, practice and feedback for application in the candidate's workplace.

The candidate will identify, scope and investigate a training plan or opportunity for an organisation and facilitate a series of training modules.

Report

The candidate will be required to document recommendations and a training plan into a comprehensive report including how the Executive Sponsor from the organisation was engaged in supporting the training.

The report will be graded using a Criterion-Referenced Assessment (CRA) tool. This CRA is an established framework and methodology to determine competency acquisition and attainment levels and it includes rubrics, checklists and rating and grading scales.
